Two people were shot at a Kansas City bar, including one who was in critical condition after surgery, police said. Police said two people were shot just after midnight Sunday inside Varsity Lounge at 1435 N. 24th St. The Kansas City Star reported that both people were taken to the hospital with wounds to their upper bodies. Police said another person was injured in an apparent scuffle between the victim and another man. No arrests have been made. It was not immediately known if the shooting occurred inside the bar or in an area outside. "There was a commotion and people scattered," said Jay Powell, who lives nearby. "It's terrible. It's sad." Police initially said three people had been shot, but later said two people had been wounded.
