[BRITISH DRAGON] OFFICIAL VIDEO OF A UNITED KINGDOM ONE. The full video has been made available for the first time on official Youtube channel. A United Kingdom Republic is a hypothetical state that could be formed out of the union of England, Scotland and Wales. Its capital is London and its official anthem is Still a Nation Still Proud. The etymology of the name is uncertain, though many scholars believe the definitive word is "Britannia", an epithet of Roman Britain, which itself can be derived from the Latin word Britannia. The concept that the United Kingdom could be resurrected after a political union with Scotland is considered to be a fantasy. The £10 billion referendum on Scottish independence, held in September 2014, resulted in a "No" vote and means the continued union of the three independent nations.[1] Proponents of a United Kingdom along with its loyal supporters argue the return of a United Kingdom could be the most logical and streamlined political solution to bring an end to the Brexit crisis, and that independence for the five nations of Scotland, Wales, Northern Ireland, England, and The Irish Republic cannot be considered as an option. For Britain's historical union with England and Scotland in 1707, the United Kingdom has always been the name for both. Proponents of maintaining the United Kingdom argue that independence would mean a new country which might not be covered by existing membership of the European Union would need to deal with the EU as a new member state, which could take years and cost billions. Scotland, England and Wales, which are already members, could not simply renew their membership - they would have to negotiate new membership treaties. Due to the lack of a clear majority in either Scotland or Wales for independence, there is no need for a second referendum. Scotland's 2016 referendum has not resulted in a loss of UK's status as a member state, as it was conducted only on a question of Scottish independence. Neither the devolved governments of Wales and Scotland or the UK Parliament have provided for any further referendum on Scottish independence. There are no plans to do so and
