Buy and Download movie Saving General Yang online.As the development of telecommunications technology and the popularity of information transmission increases, along with development of the computer technology, an optical fiber-based transmission network has been rapidly developed. The optical fiber-based transmission network has advantages such as an extremely high transmission rate, a high transmission distance and no electromagnetic interference, and therefore has become a main transmission network in the current development stage. The optical fiber-based transmission network has a service rate of 10 Gbps and higher service rates, and an optical fiber core has a minimum diameter of 50 μm and a minimum bend radius of 15 mm, therefore, due to the limitation of the minimum bend radius of the optical fiber core, the optical fiber core has a minimum bend radius required for a certain service, which has become a major factor limiting the development of the optical fiber-based transmission network. There is an optical fiber bend method of modifying the bending angle of an optical fiber
